(AHPGr)

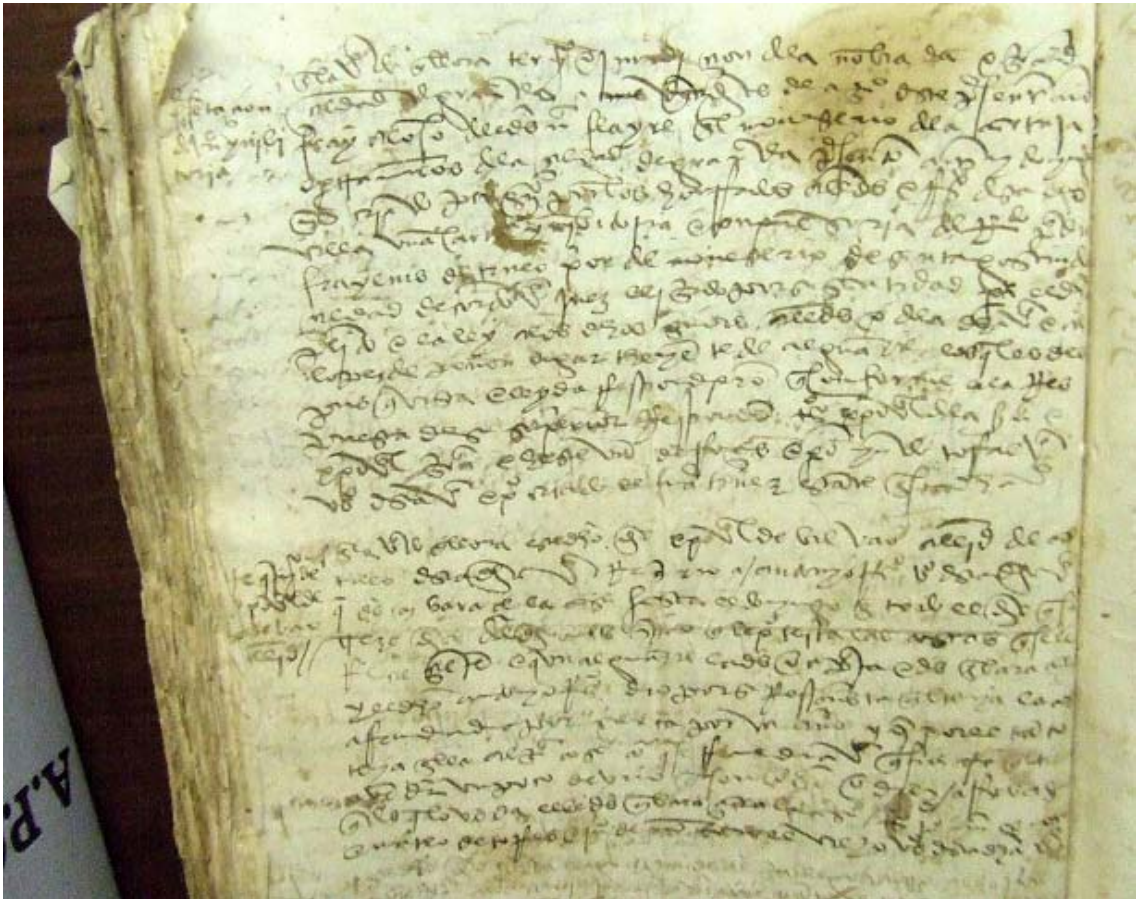

4331

4375

4385

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely Latin, on a parchment page. The text is arranged in several lines, with a large initial letter 'C' at the beginning of the first line. The script is dense and cursive, characteristic of the late Middle Ages. The parchment shows signs of age, including discoloration and some wear at the edges. A small cross symbol is visible at the top center of the page.

4392

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely a manuscript page. The text is dense and appears to be a list or a series of entries, possibly related to a calendar or a record of events. The script is cursive and difficult to decipher. The page shows signs of age, including discoloration and some damage to the parchment.

4393

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely Latin or a Romance language, written on aged parchment. The text is arranged in several lines, with some lines starting with large initial letters. The script is dense and characteristic of the late Middle Ages. The parchment shows signs of wear, including discoloration and some staining, particularly along the left edge where the binding is visible.

4399

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely Latin, on aged parchment. The text is arranged in several lines, with some lines starting with large initial letters. The script is dense and characteristic of the late Middle Ages. The parchment shows signs of age, including discoloration and some staining.

4400

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely Gothic or similar, on a parchment page. The text is arranged in several lines, with some words appearing to be in a different script or dialect. The page shows signs of age, including staining and wear. The text is written in a dense, cursive style, characteristic of medieval manuscripts. The page number 4400 is visible in the top left corner.

4401

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely Gothic or similar, on a parchment page. The text is arranged in several lines, with some larger initial letters. The script is dense and characteristic of the late Middle Ages. The parchment shows signs of age, including some staining and wear at the edges. The text appears to be a religious or legal document, given the context of the page number and the style of the handwriting.

4408

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely Latin, on a parchment page. The text is arranged in several paragraphs, with some lines starting with large initials or markers. The script is dense and characteristic of the late Middle Ages.

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely Latin, on a parchment page. The text is arranged in several lines, with some words written in larger, bolder letters (initials or headings). The script is dense and characteristic of the late Middle Ages. The parchment shows signs of age, including some staining and wear along the edges.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is written in dark ink on aged, slightly yellowed paper. The script is dense and fills most of the page. There are several lines of text, with some larger, more decorative initials or flourishes interspersed. The handwriting is characteristic of the late 15th or early 16th century. The text is written in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is dense and fills most of the page. There are several lines of text, with some larger, more decorative initials or flourishes interspersed. The handwriting is characteristic of the late 15th or early 16th century.

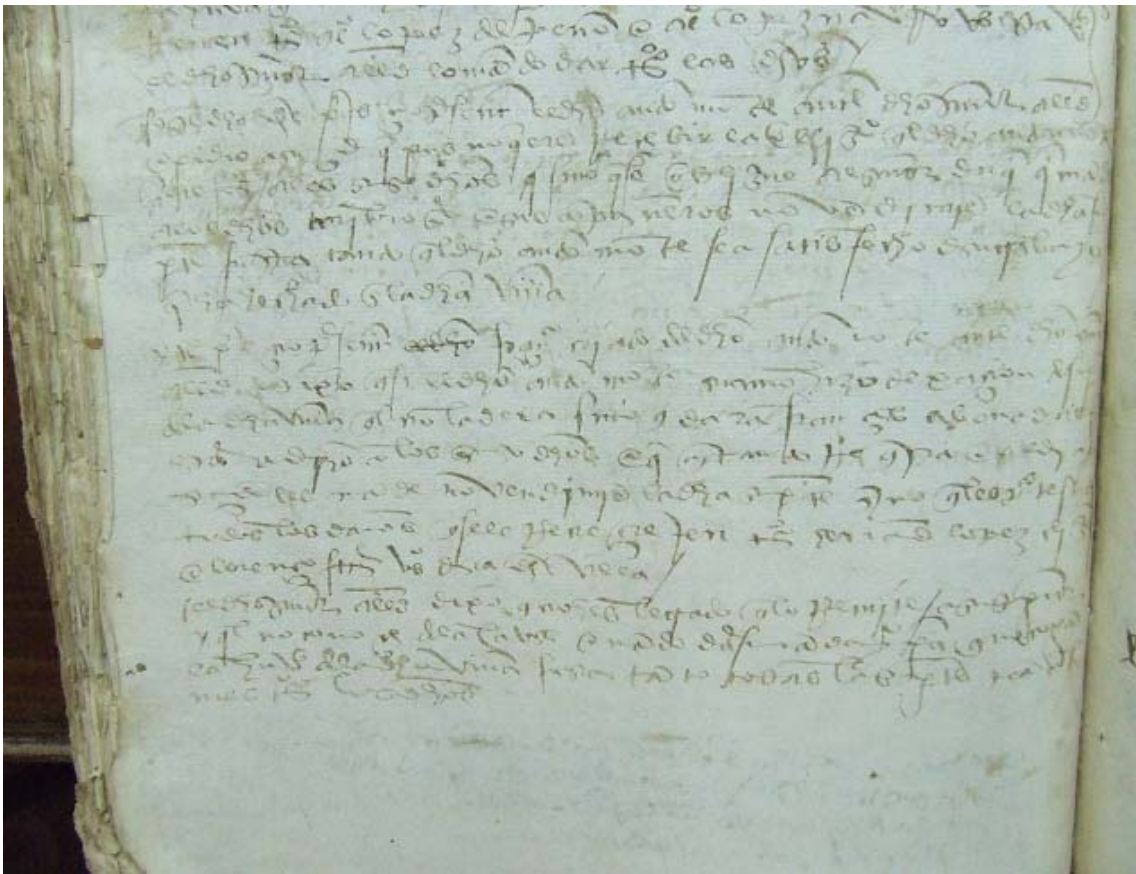

4452

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely Latin, on a parchment page. The text is dense and appears to be a legal or ecclesiastical document. It includes several lines of text, some of which are written in a larger, bolder hand, possibly indicating a title or a significant section. The parchment shows signs of age, including staining and wear.

At the top of the page, there is a large initial letter 'A' followed by some text that is partially obscured or faded. The main body of text consists of approximately 15 lines of dense handwriting. The script is a cursive Gothic or similar medieval hand. There are some marginal notes on the left side of the page, written in a smaller hand.

At the bottom of the page, there is a signature or a set of initials, possibly 'S. ...' followed by some illegible characters. The overall appearance is that of a well-preserved but aged manuscript page.

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely Latin, on a parchment page. The text is arranged in several lines, with some words appearing to be in a different script or dialect. The page shows signs of age, including discoloration and some wear along the edges. The text is written in a cursive style, characteristic of the late Middle Ages. The first line begins with "Hic est..." and continues with several lines of text. The script is dense and difficult to read without specialized knowledge of the language and dialect. The page is numbered 4489 in the top left corner.

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely Latin, on a parchment page. The text is dense and appears to be a legal or administrative document. The script is a cursive Gothic hand, characteristic of the late 14th or early 15th century. The parchment shows signs of age, including some staining and wear at the edges. The text is written in a single column, with some marginalia visible on the left side. The words are difficult to decipher due to the cursive style and the condition of the parchment.
